DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The language of claim 1 is indefinite and ambiguous as the Examiner cannot determine what is being included; the blowing, cooling, treating, wetting, lubricating all at one time or just individually or some in combination.

Regarding claim 1, the word "means" is preceded by the word(s) "appropriating" in an attempt to use a "means" clause to recite a claim element as a means for performing a specified function. However, since no function is specified by the word(s) preceding "means," it is impossible to determine the equivalents of the element, as required by 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. See Ex parte Klumb, 159 USPQ 694 (Bd. App. 1967).

Appropriate correction is required.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 7, 8, 11, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,603,984 to Keim et al.

Regarding claim 1, as best as can be determined Keim et al teaches a spraying tool for foundries for treating the walls of a molding device, the tool having appropriating means via a multifunction strip (18) where at least one medium is available through spray nozzles (20₁-20₆,) at a spraying place (generally 18c) control means via a selector plate (generally 18) and movable arms disposed at the ends of the multifunction strips, and where the control means control the spraying nozzles. As per claim 2, the strip (or plate) contains a control air channel (48) and a spraying medium channel (40). As per claim 7, there is a spraying nozzle (20₁-20₆,) for at least one medium. As per claim 8 and 15, Keim et al teaches spraying plural media (air and lubricant) consecutively or simultaneously (Col 20, lines 36-41). As per claim 11, medium can be sprayed together with another medium.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S.

Patent No. 5,603,984 to Keim et al.

As per claim 12, Keim et al teaches the spraying of lubricant but does not teach an admixture of wax, oil and silicone with water however it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used an admixture for mold treating as its use is regarded as common within the industry and notoriously well known in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

It appears that claims 3-6, 9,10, 13 and 14 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure is as follows:

U.S. Patent No. 5,916,367 to Wollin

U.S. Patent No. 6,192,968 to Renkl et al

U.S. Patent No. 6,722,587 to Hanano

U.S. Patent No. 4,760,961 to Nagai
